1. Description of Medical Services

IOM Migration Health Division provide immigration medical services to refugees accepted under resettlement and family reunification programs and residing in the Republic of Turkey. This program is in line with IOM's mandates described in Cooperation Agreement with Government of the Republic of Turkey.

Globally immigrant medical service is one of the most established services of IOM upon requests from Member States. The intension of pre-departure immigrant medical services is 1) to ensure that the migrants, traveling under the IOM's auspices, do so in a safe and dignified manner; 2) to facilitate integration of migrants with significant medical conditions into the health systems of the receiving countries; 3) to address some public health issues, related to mobility.

As part of pre-departure immigrant medical services following medical services are sometimes required to confirm diagnosis and assure travel safety. IOM requests prospective Service Provider to submit Proposal for the following medical services:
